RACHEL MEDEIROS INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGNER

Rachel is an instructional designer with experience developing custom-built training programs for schools, entrepreneurs, and corporations.

Her middle school teaching experience made her an expert in creating engaging activities that deliver real results. With California single-subject teaching credentials in English, math, and social science, Rachel has a wide variety of knowledge and teaching experience. Her innovative ideas and passionate workshops led her to become a Google for Education Certified Innovator and Trainer.

Rachel now brings that same innovation and passion to every client. With a Masters in Instructional Science & Technology from California State University, Monterey Bay, Rachel understands the science behind how people learn.

Rachel applies this knowledge and her classroom teaching experience to create intentional training plans that are engaging, easy to implement, and sustainable.

She works with clients to identify key training points before designing and developing engaging visuals and interactive activities which increase retention.

Rachel builds eLearning programs with Articulate 360 and a variety of supplemental tools, including Google Workspace, Microsoft Office, Camtasia, and other web-based tools. When she designs or facilitates in-person workshops, Rachel enjoys using technology as well Post-Its, hexagonal thinking, hands-on activities, and face-to-face conversations.

When she's not working, Rachel enjoys cycling to specialty coffee shops, reading in the sunshine, and cooking with what's in season.

OUR EXPERIENCED TEAM MAKES THE WINS HAPPEN!

"Cumby Consulting's ability to translate highly technical information to a wide variety of student experiences is what makes their programs highly effective and in-tune with the company's objectives."
